5. Nuisance: Tenant(s) agrees to put the pet(s) out for board or otherwise remove the pet(s) from the leased premises for the balance of the lease term, if the pet(s) is or becomes a nuisance or annoyance or interferes with the rights or enjoyment of other residents, or because of any noise or smells emanating from the pet(s) or damage by the pet(s), or if Landlord shall subsequently revoke this consent. Resident(s) agree to use a bark collar, if necessary.

8. Removal of Pet: In some circumstances, management may enter the dwelling and remove the pet, with one day's notice left in a conspicuous place, if, in our soul judgment you have:
-Abandoned the pet.

-Left the pet in dwelling for extended period of time without food or water.

-Failed to care for a sick pet.

-Violated our pet policies or this addendum.

-Let the pet defecate or urinate where prohibited.

Note: If you are unable to care for your pets, particularly in the event of eviction, reach out to family, friends, and social networks to locate temporary or permanent housing for your pet. Your local animal shelters may be able to assist you, as well, by providing additional resources or temporary foster caretaking while you get back on your feet. If no other solution can be found, they may be able to take your pet into their program to find appropriate placement. For more information, access the following
